

Walk to Emmaus[®]

THE UPPER ROOM[®]

Vol. 15, Issue 33

Little Pencil...

Greetings to all my brothers and sisters in the Emmaus and Chrysalis Communities around the world! Not only do these movements connect Chrysalis and Emmaus communities globally, but they really tie to all people living on this planet. We are Christ's disciples making more disciples! This call doesn't restrict us to making disciples to some of God's children but it challenges us to be disciples to all of our neighbors – no matter where they live. I keep a saying on my desk; a quote from Mother Teresa:

"I am a little pencil in the hand of a writing God, who is sending a love letter to the world"

This should be our motto every day of our lives. Let's stop being concerned about whether or not we're going to heaven and a little more concerned with bringing a little bit of heaven down to earth with our words, our deeds...our discipleship.

Jesus said, "Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and the Son and the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you." (NIV) Eugene Petersen says it this way, "Go out and train everyone you meet, far and near, in the way of life, marking them by baptism in the threefold name: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Then instruct them in the practice of all I have commanded you." (The Message)

"The holidays" are upon us. A time of thanksgiving, a time for family and a time of giving is drawing near. It is a time of anticipation because He is coming. And He is coming for all of us, everywhere, around the world. This child is coming and we need to be His hands and feet. Christ is counting on us.

May God bless you in your Fourth Day.

One Presbyterian Pastor's Reflection on the Walk to Emmaus

I have been a Presbyterian pastor for 33 years and went on a Walk to Emmaus (WTE) in October 1999 and sat at the Table of Peter. I have been an assistant spiritual director for two walks and am convinced that this 3 day experience is anointed by God and can be one of the most effective means through which God transforms lives.

The highlight of the experience for me is to attend "closing" and hear the men and women tell stories of what the WTE has meant to them and what they are going to do about it. When I hear how God's love has been awakened in the pilgrims' lives through the experience of listening to 15 talks, Candlelight, Dying Moments and interacting with new friends at their table, their testimonies often move me to tears and bring encouragement to my own life and ministry. Good people who have been so used to controlling every facet of their lives begin to see that it is much more joyous to allow God's grace to flow from their hearts to the world around them. I heartily recommend the WTE to lay people as well as pastors. It may not be the answer to all the problems that we face in life as Christians, but it may offer one seeking a deeper relationship with God an indelible impression of God's love from which one may discover new freedom and many more choices on their life's journey than one could ever dream possible.

While the Walk to Emmaus may not be for everyone, it could be the way in which God speaks and moves in your life to enable and empower you to discover and use your unique gifts. It could be the way you find the special purpose that God has given you. I have heard many testimonies at repeated "closings" that bear witness to the power of God's love that changed the direction of people's lives. From the "Walk to Emmaus" I have seen many people discover new possibilities for their lives. They were given hope. Their lives gained a new dimension as they began to hear with new ears the promise of Christ: "I have said these things to you so that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be complete" (John 15:11). God's unconditional love is that great and more.

The Lord Knows No Limits

As the 2007 Lay Director for the Aldersgate Emmaus Community of Florida, I witnessed "The New Pentecost," as Aldersgate became the third community on the U.S. mainland and the first Emmaus community in Florida to host men's and women's Spanish-language weekends this past October.

We followed the leading of the Holy Spirit when Ann Leavens, our 2006 Lay Director, asked us early in 2006 to be in covenant with her to pray about holding Spanish-language walks. Later that year, in God's timing and at His kairoic moment, our English-speaking board stepped out in faith and scheduled the walks with no idea of what we had committed to and how we might proceed. However, we worked closely with Victor Perez and the Upper Room and identified Spanish-speaking members of the Emmaus community who made their walks and served on teams in Cuba, Mexico, Puerto Rico, and Georgia. We met, prayed, spread the word, and worked. We faced some incredible obstacles and some discouragements along the way, yet the Lord sustained us through the faithfulness and the efforts of others whenever we considered postponing or cancelling the walks. Our Spanish-language walks happened because of the God-inspired vision and commitment of Emmaus members everywhere.

The walks not only occurred, they flourished! Twelve Spanish-speaking pilgrims—including three pastors--attended Men's Walk #119. On their first Fourth Days, the men sponsored an additional 31 women, bringing the total number of women who attended the Women's Walk #119 to 35—our largest walk in 2007. The team for Women's Walk #119 included 21 women from Puerto Rico who each arrived dragging two suitcases—one filled with her clothes and another filled w/ agape for the pilgrims and for the Aldersgate community.

One unexpected result from these first Spanish-language walks was that the Lord provided us connections with Emmaus people from many backgrounds and communities. Some of our sisters from Puerto Rico will return to serve again next October; in addition, I plan to serve on the women's team for Puerto Rico Walk #50 in Spring 2008. And, at this early writing, Aldersgate Emmaus has applications from more than a dozen pilgrims for the 2008 Spanish-language walks.

When the Holy Spirit inspires us, we can follow God's leading even when we face barriers of language and distance. Jesus knows no borders.

Walk to Emmaus & Chrysalis Database Service

Many Emmaus and Chrysalis Communities have been seeking a database program that can be used in their area. On November 10, 2007, Internet Membership Services introduced a database program for Emmaus and Chrysalis communities. After two years in the making, Larry Deel, President, has presented an excellent tool that can be used by any and all Emmaus and Chrysalis communities. The IMS Emmaus database has been tested in several South East Region communities and the response has been very positive. If you want to find out more information, go to www.inetmember.com.

Merry Christmas!

From the International Chrysalis and Emmaus Office: Victor and Laura, Wayne and Edna, and Greg and Brenda

Every year we look at Advent and the Christmas seasons as a time of joy, love, giving and hope. Jesus didn't have a season for joy, love, giving or hope. He lived that way everyday. During this season of joy, let us remember that Jesus wants us to be more like Him and we can do that by being disciples of hope, love, joy and giving – all year long.

Our Emmaus/Chrysalis Journey: Part One

We are a people on a journey that:

- we call our 4th day;
- is for spiritual growth and transformation;
- is not done alone but in community;
- is guided by our Lord Jesus who constantly walks with us;
- is with those who represent the Christian church, the body of Christ;
- is teaching us how to work together in accomplishing God's will for us; and
- asks us to guide others through their journey.

For many of us this journey started the day we offered our lives to Christ, but it acquired a special meaning once we experienced our 72-hour Emmaus/Chrysalis weekend. It acquired that special meaning because of:

- What we heard and experienced during the E/C weekend;
- The new friendships that we developed during our weekend and through our community activities, our reunion groups, serving on teams;
- Our new understanding of how God's grace is available to us every day of our life;
- The power of prayer that we have rediscovered, in our personal time with God, with our brothers and sisters in reunion groups, at church; and
- The way we have continued to discern God's will for us as faithful disciples of Jesus Christ and as members of the body of Christ.

Paul's words in Ephesians 4:15-16 remind us that as we move forward on our journey, we:

- are expected to grow and be transformed, "we must grow up in every way into him who is the head, into Christ...";
- learn how to work together and to strengthen each other, "from whom the whole body, joined and knit together by every ligament with which it is equipped...";
- learn the importance of doing a good job, how to perform with quality and with integrity the task that has been entrusted to us, "as each part is working properly..."; and
- learn about the results of our good work, so that others will receive the benefit of our actions and how we should be thankful to God for allowing us to be a part of his plans. We should rejoice as we hear how God continues to change and transform our lives, "promotes the body's growth in building itself up in love".

The image of the body that Paul presents in I Corinthians 12:14-26 shows the members' proper interrelation within the body. The "one body, many members" metaphor was selected by Paul to teach the Christians in the early church about the need of unity within the Church. It uses the image of the human body which is formed by many members.

According to J. Paul Sampley, The New Interpreter's Bible, the metaphor serves two purposes. Verses 15-17 use the analogy to address persons who have a low self-estimation, who they wish they were rather than who they are, and seeks to assure them of their importance, even necessity, to the body.

Verses 21-24 address those who have a low estimation of others - that is, those who think they have greater importance - and reminds these people, that every member is equally important to the well being of the body.

Every part of the body has a particular function and is needed if the body is to function adequately. Paul sees the church as the body of Christ. The unity of the believers is grounded in that each person is an indispensable part of the body. The individuality is honored in that each believer serves the body in a distinct - neither less or greater - way.

Within the human body we find many parts with different functions. We can refer to the human body as a large system with many sub-systems wondrously intertwined. When one of the sub-systems (parts) is not working as it should, the large system is impacted.

All the sub-systems need to perform their particular tasks at the proper time. While parts of the body are working at a particular task, others might be resting, waiting for the moment they need to kick in and do their task. For example, we need to keep our eyes open while walking or driving so that we can see what's ahead of us. However, when we want to sleep we need to keep our eyes closed in order for the brain to know that it is time to rest. The eyes are still in the same place but are not performing an active part while other parts of the body are.

The image of the body used by Paul in his writings to the early church could be helpful to those of us who provide leadership in Emmaus/Chrysalis. We will continue this topic on our next issue.
